Cars to be scrapped to save police cash

POLICE in Northamptonshire are preparing to lose up to 100 cars, motorbikes and vans from the force's fleet of vehicles as part of cost-cutting measures.

Northamptonshire Police has also revealed around 25 jobs have already been lost, as senior officers brace themselves for more swinging cuts.

Police chiefs are preparing to be hit with budget cuts of around a quarter when a Government spending review is announced next month.

The force is thought to have already drawn up plans to scrap between 50 and 100 vehicles from its 420-strong fleet, which currently consists of 297 cars, 93 vans, 26 motorbikes and four quad bikes.

Graham Crow, transport manager for Northamptonshire Police, confirmed a review of vehicles that have travelled less than 10,000 miles in the last year was now under way and that 16 vehicles had already been scrapped.

He said: "As part of a wider review of the force, the transport department was tasked with looking at the current fleet and establishing what efficiencies could be made."

"They identified all the vehicles used by the force that travelled less than 10,000 miles in the last year and entered into a consultation process with area commanders to establish if there was a more efficient way for those vehicles to be used.

"As a result of this, 16 vehicles have been immediately removed from the fleet and discussions are ongoing to establish if any more are able to be removed without impacting on the service provided by the force."

"All effort has been made, and will continue to be made, to make sure the right balance when making efficiencies with providing the service people quite rightly expect from us as a police force."

A representative from the trade union Unison said around 25 jobs had already been axed inside the force, with around 15 people taking voluntary redundancy. Around 10 people are believed to have either been "redeployed" into other roles or are on a waiting list to be redeployed.

Peter Lake, branch secretary of the Northamptonshire Police branch of Unison, said his members were concerned about the "uncertainty" surrounding police cuts.

He said: "Everybody is waiting for the October spending review so we have this uncertainty. But they are trying to do a very difficult job."

"The are trying to keep the police numbers while still having to make savings."

Boy dies of suspected meningitis

A BOY at a Northamptonshire school has died from suspected meningitis.

Teachers at Campion School in Bugbrooke sent letters home with pupils on Monday telling them of the death of the 13-year-old boy, whose identity has not formally released.

The letter says the youngster died at Queens Medical Centre in Nottingham at the weekend.

Although meningitis is suspected as the probable cause, the letter – drafted by the Health Protection Agency – says it is a form of meningitis which is not contagious.

Yesterday headteacher Bob Clayton expressed his sorrow on behalf of the school at the news.

He said: "It's obviously a huge shock to the school and, more importantly, to the family concerned.

"Our thoughts go out to them in this hugely difficult time they're experiencing."

The letter, which was sent out to the parents of fellow year 10 pupils, said the cause was probably pneumococcal meningitis.

According to the Meningitis Research Foundation, although the pneumococcal bacteria are easy to pass on, it is "extremely rare" for a healthy person to catch severe pneumococcal disease from someone in their household who has the illness.

However, some parents of year 10 Campion School children criticised the wording of the letter, which they say has caused panic.

A mother, who asked not to be named, said: "In one breath it says this type of meningitis is not contagious but then it starts giving signs and symptoms of other more contagious forms of meningitis and septicaemia.

"It's very confusing and worrying for anyone reading it."

Dr Philip Monk, a consultant at the Health Protection Agency, said he had agonised about including information about other forms of the disease in the letter but felt Campion School parents should know about other possibilities in case the initial diagnosis was proved wrong.

He said: "Looking at the clinical and lab results, our best guess is that it is not a risk to other students . . . but it is only our best guess."

"We are trying to give as much information as we are able to just in case but we are sorry if that has caused worry or confusion."

South Northamptonshire Council will host a hearing about a review of the licence held by Towcester Conservative Club after reports of excessive noise

Call to review club's licence

THE managers of a Northamptonshire Conservative club are due to appear before councillors to answer complaints their venue has created noise problems.

Members of South Northamptonshire Council's licensing sub-committee will meet next week to discuss alleged noise issues at the Towcester Conservative Club in Watling Street, Towcester.

In documents which will be seen by the committee, the council's senior licensing officer, David Macey, said a review of the club's licence had been called for "as the result of ongoing noise issues, and the fact that the management of the club have apparently consistently failed to comply with the prevention of public nuisance objective".

Explaining the background for the review, and the reason it had been requested by the Conservative-led council's environmental protection team, he added: "In July 2008 the council's environmental protection team received a complaint regarding excessive noise from live music events taking place at Towcester Conservative Club. There had been noise issues for some years prior to that date.

"The matter was investigated, but despite extended negotiations with the club's management, the nuisance continued occasionally until September 2009, when the council finally served a noise abatement notice," Mr Macey's report added.

"Further complaints have been received since the notice was served, and to date it has been breached on 10 occasions."

The council committee will meet on Wednesday, September 29, to decide what action the authority should take.

During the hearing, experts from the council's environmental health department are expected to give evidence about the alleged noise problems at the club.

In March this year, the Conservative and Unionist Club in New Street, Weedon, had its licence revoked by members of Conservative-led Daventry District Council following complaints of noise nuisance and disturbances.

The following month, the managers of the club successfully applied for a new licence which gave the venue permission to play recorded, but not live, music.

Nobody from the Towcester Conservative Club has been available for comment.

The hearing about the club's licence will be held at South Northamptonshire Council's offices in Towcester next week.

Getaway driver goes on the run

A GETAWAY driver from Northampton serving six years for a security van robbery is being hunted after going on the run.

Daniel Bage, aged 27, failed to return to HMP Sudbury in Derbyshire from temporary leave on Saturday.

Bage, of Cotswold Avenue, Duston, was jailed in October 2008 at Northampton Crown Court.

Bage, who is 5ft 10ins and stocky, failed to return to the category D open prison on Saturday along with 31-year-old Gary Brierley, from Rochdale, who is serving life for murder.

Warming up on wall run

A BUSINESSMAN from Northampton has put his feet up having run the length of Hadrian's Wall before amazingly taking to the starting line for Sunday's Great North Run.

Warren Ferguson, aged 41, started his personal fundraising marathon at the eastern tip of the wall, at Bowness-on-Solway, near Carlisle, on Monday last week.

He then proceeded to run six half-marathons in as many days, covering the entire length of Hadrian's Wall before, blistered and bruised, he then managed to complete Sunday's 13-mile race between Newcastle and South Shields.

Warren, managing director of a Moulton Park business, said: "A few years back I ran the Great North Run and I thought to myself

I want to run it again but I wanted to make it more of a challenge."

Warren, from Church Brampton, came up with the challenge to raise money for the NSPCC, a charity for which his mother is a leading campaigner.

Having already run the race once before, Warren said he needed to come up with a more demanding challenge to get his friends and family to dig deep once again.

He initially received support from his parents, who shuttled Warren between his base camp halfway along the wall and his running position every morning and evening. However, for two days in the middle of his challenge Warren was alone in the wilderness and had to rely on public transport to get to and from his campsites.

Warren even ended up running an additional six miles on two days having missed his buses. However, having completed 100 miles on foot, Warren finally made the start line of the Great North Run on Sunday, where, after being patched up, he completed the run in just over three hours.

He said: "I had blisters all over my feet. It had rained for three days and it had blistered my feet, I had twisted my ankle and I could only just get my foot in the shoes and I was in the St John Ambulance three or four times along the route so they could administer ice and bandages."

Back at work on Monday, Warren said he was still feeling the effects of his incredible challenge. He said: "I am having a little bit of a struggle when it comes to stairs but other than that I am just about alright."

Warren Ferguson completed an amazing run along the entire length of Hadrian's Wall . . . before tackling the Great North Run

A double delight

A FORMULA One engineer from Northampton completed the Great North Run on Sunday alongside his fiancée.

Sam Coates, a design engineer for the F1 Team Force India, completed the run in Newcastle in one hour and 44 minutes.

Running the race for the second time, on this occasion Sam was joined by his fiancée, Laura Clark, a teacher at Kings Heath Primary School.

Sam, aged 29, from Duston, raised money for the Make-A-Wish Foundation, a charity that grants wishes to children and young people fighting life-threatening illnesses.

Running for Butterflies

A COUSIN of Sophie Bywaters has completed the Great North Run in memory of the Northampton teenager, almost a year after she was killed on a busy dual-carriageway.

Tony Chadfield completed Sunday's 13-mile run with the aim of raising £1,000 for Children are Butterflies, a charity that supports families who have lost children.

Tony, who ran the race with a photo of Sophie pinned to his shirt, said he chose the charity because it had helped his family following the tragic death of his cousin on the A45 last October.

Tony, aged 27, said: "It was just as much running in memory of Sophie as it was for the charity. I had picture of Sophie on my back as well as a pair of butterfly wings."

The Northampton-based charity aims to provide support and guidance to families who have lost a child of any age.

Tony has currently raised £400 but is still hoping to pass the £1,000 mark. To sponsor him visit <http://uk.virginmoneygiving.com/AntonyChadfield>

Cloudy2Clear Windows, the Northampton based window repair company, are revolutionising how homeowners view double glazing in our area. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as customers take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore, is convinced that much of his success is down to the fact that he employs tradesmen, not salesmen. "If you think about it, who wants to deal with the dreaded double glazing salesman?"

The thought of going through the whole tedious process of haggling with someone who arrives at 7 at night and then camps themselves in your house until midnight is not one most people find attractive. A lot of our customers are elderly and can feel very pressurised by sales tactics. We set out from day one to be very different.

Trevor makes very sure his customers are looked after right from the first time Cloudy2Clear arrive at the house. "All our staff arrive in uniforms so the customer knows who they are and I insist that they wear plastic overshoes to protect the customers carpets. We then measure the windows that have a problem and price the job up there and then, which usually takes around 15 minutes. If the customer wants the job doing we'll arrange installation but if they want to call us back later that's fine. What I don't want to hear from any of my customers is that they felt pushed into anything. It's just not our style.

We're trying to give the glazing industry a reputable face and the evidence of my order book tells me my customers like our approach."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be more than happy to help!

Chance of a lifetime for Caitlin

THE SURVIVOR of a rare blood condition has spoken of her pride after reading alongside the Pope in front of tens of thousands of people in Hyde Park.

Caitlin Behan, 13, from Weston, Northampton, was one of a select few who had the once in a lifetime chance to take part in the Hyde Park Vigil on Saturday night with Pope Benedict XVI on the third day of his UK state visit.

Originally Caitlin was asked to carry the Handicapped Children's Pilgrimage Trust (HCPT) charity's banner, but after organisers learned of her courageous battle against illness she was invited to take the stage.

In front of an estimated 80,000 people Caitlin read a liturgy which involved her reading the Litany of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, with the Pope answering each line.

Caitlin said: "It was amazing, really amazing. It's hard to put into words."

"It was amazing with all the people, the stage was huge, so huge."

"But they didn't matter with the Pope there."

"I was terrified before I went on stage but everyone was really nice."

"The Bishops told me I had done really well, so I was pleased."

"It was an honour to read with the Pope and he was standing so close to me," she added.

"It doesn't get much better than that."

With security waiting to whisk the Pope into his car after the Vigil, Caitlin was not able to meet him later.

Caitlin, who rehearsed for the reading in London on Friday, joined the HCPT two years ago following her recovery from Fanconi's anaemia in 2004.

The Northampton School for Girls student is still dealing with the effects of a stroke that she had in 2004 but says she is "always getting better".

MOT your home and save energy

Source www.pilkington.co.uk

A combination of a 'Big Freeze' winter, rising fuel costs and the drive towards reducing our carbon footprint, means we're all looking for new ways to stay warm while keeping costs down.

And a new survey shows energy-efficiency is top of the list for home-buyers too. The Pilkington energiKare™ 'MOT Your Home' research reveals that 76 per cent of homebuyers now rate it as a major deciding factor when purchasing property.

Loft insulation, an energy-efficient boiler, energy-efficient heating, energy-efficient windows and cavity insulation were the five findings most of us were concerned with.

1. Loft insulation (80 per cent)
2. Energy efficient boiler (79 per cent)
3. Energy efficient heating (74 per cent)
4. Energy efficient windows (73 per cent)
5. Cavity insulation (62 per cent)

But as we weigh up the cost of one of the coldest winters for 30 years and wait for our updated fuel bill to arrive there are some simple steps we can all take to make our homes more energy and cost-efficient.

TV presenter and architect, George Clarke best-known for Channel 4's The Home Show – has teamed up with Pilkington to suggest changes we can all make. As he says: 'It's reassuring to know that more and more people are taking their home and their carbon footprint seriously, after all our homes are the biggest investments we are ever likely to make. What's important is that people are taking steps to change and recognising the added value greener living brings, such as cost savings and increasing the saleability of homes. "Installing good-quality loft insulation is one of the most effective energy-saving jobs homeowners can do, which is good news as 80 per cent of homebuyers in this survey consider it the most important green factor when buying a new home. You could chop a whopping £150 annually off the average energy bill by installing insulation that is 270mm thick. "Another big saving over time is replacing the windows with more energy-efficient glazing. This can cut fuel bills by 20 per cent over their lifetime. Pilkington energiKare™ glazing, for example, can reduce heat loss by up to 90 per cent, compared to single-glazed windows, and at the same time allow in more heat from the sun. Even turning down the thermostat and fitting energy saving light bulbs can make a difference and be done instantly and cost effectively." The research carried out about by Pilkington energiKare™ also revealed that the installation of solar panels and self-cleaning windows were two of the most popular areas for home improvement among homeowners looking to add value by going green.

Julia Berkin, Marketing Communications Manager at Pilkington comments: "This last winter has certainly led more people to re-evaluate the energy efficiency of their homes and it's encouraging to see that despite the recent recession, people are continuing to place sustainable living high on their agenda."

Upgrading from single glazing to Pilkington energiKare™ energy efficient double-glazing could save more than £10,000 in fuel bills over the lifetime of the windows. Promising energy-efficient solutions for every style of home, the advanced glazing technology reduces the amount of heat lost through windows while allowing more heat from the sun in, helping to create a warmer environment. This offsets the normal central heating used to heat the home.

Shop unit is set to be filled

EXPERTS negotiating the deal to rent out Northampton's former Woolworths store are expected to announce which shop will fill the vacant unit this week.

The large Abington Street store has been empty since Woolworths closed in January 2009.

A variety of companies are believed to have shown an interest in taking on the shop over the past few months, but letting agent BTW Shiells is expected to finally announce what the store will become in the next few days.

A spokesman for the firm said: "It has been taken on by somebody and we expect to reveal who it will be in the next couple of days."

Woolworths went into administration at the end of 2008 and its 807 shops across the country were closed in January 2009.

Frozen food company Iceland took up many of the vacant stores, securing a total of 61 across the country, while budget retail firm Poundland, also took over a number.

But a study by business experts The Local Data Company in August this year revealed more than 300 former Woolworths shops across the country were still standing empty.

Northampton Borough Council's cabinet member for regeneration, Councillor Richard Church (Lib Dem, Kingsthorpe), said: "It's good news. I hope we'll get a shop which will attract a lot more people to Abington Street."

A study by our sister paper the Chronicle & Echo earlier this month revealed there were 13 empty shops in Abington Street, representing 14 per cent of the total. The number was below the average for the town, which shows 16 per cent of shops are currently standing empty.

Weekend nets £8k

A FUNDRAISING weekend held at a town centre pub has raised a massive £8,000 for the Chronicle & Echo and Macmillan Cancer Support's £1.5 million campaign to fund a new haematology unit at Northampton General Hospital.

The weekend, in memory of landlady Maureen Hodgson's friend Lyn Warren, who died of breast cancer three years ago, included an X Factor-style competition which was judged by Conservative MP for Northampton North Michael Ellis, owner of Abington Park Cafe Tony Ansell and former Heart FM breakfast show DJs Jagger and Woody, as well as a sponsored 'pink' fundraising walk.

Calls made to stub out smoke ban

SMOKERS have been urged to ask their MP to attend an upcoming vote about exempting pubs and clubs from the smoking ban.

A meeting of anti-smoking ban group Freedom2Choose at Kingsley Park Terrace Working Men's Club and Institute, Northampton, yesterday called for amendments to the smoking ban, which it believes has led to the closure of 6,500 pubs and clubs across the country.

The meeting was attended by Conservative MPs Philip Hollobone and Chris Heaton-Harris, and Mr Hollobone said the best way to make the Government sit up and take notice of the strength of discontent was to lobby members of Parliament.

He said: "There is a 10-minute bill on this very subject coming up next month in Parliament. I would encourage Freedom2Choose and club members to contact their own MPs asking them to be present for that and vote.

"Pubs and clubs should never have been included in the bill in the first place and this is a golden opportunity to tell ministers how important this is for you."

Mr Heaton-Harris added: "This will not change any laws but it is a fantastic opportunity to flag this up big and strong to the Government early in its life."

Chairman Phil Johnson of Freedom2Choose told the meeting that small organisations campaigning against the ban should unite to fight for people's right to choose whether they are exposed to cigarette smoke or not. Mr Johnson said the hospitality industry was being crippled by the loss of smokers and advocated air cleansing systems or separate smoking rooms.

But Virginia Whittington, from Far Cotton, said: "It's fine talking about measures to keep smoke in check but many small pubs don't have the space or money."

A panel of Conservative MPs and members of the anti-smoking ban group, Freedom2Choose, met at Kingsley Park Terrace Working Men's Club to debate the ban on smoking in pubs and clubs

Francesca Hughes is recovering after ground-breaking surgery and is already planning a trip to Disney World to celebrate

Young girl in fight to walk

A BRAVE eight-year-old girl is already planning a trip to Disney World as she continues to recover from potentially life-changing surgery that will hopefully help her to walk.

Francesca Hughes, of Greenfield Avenue, Spinney Hill, Northampton, returned from America last month having undergone complex surgery.

Francesca was born three months prematurely, weighing just 2lb 8oz and when she was 18 months old, her parents were told she had cerebral palsy, a condition that affects both her legs and means she cannot walk unaided.

Before the operation Francesca, a pupil at St Gregory's Catholic Primary School, relied on a walking frame or wheelchair to get around.

In July, she underwent two operations to cut the problematic or "bad" nerve fibres in her spine and legs – which her family hopes will allow her to ditch her walking frame for good.

Mum Caroline said the operation had been a "huge success" and Francesca was already able to stand unaided for up to a minute. "All of the stiffness has been permanently removed from Francesca's body. She has substantially went is not available in the UK, so her family had to raise £50,000 to fly her to St Louis.

She is now undergoing daily sessions of physiotherapy at a cost of £1,000 a month.

Caroline said: "We are so grateful to everyone who has donated money to us and given Francesca this chance of a more independent future.

"We raised more than £50,000 in 10 weeks. It was hard work but it is a fantastic story. It has been overwhelming."

Caroline says it could be several weeks until she knows the extent of Francesca's recovery. However, she says they are already planning for the future.

She said: "It is very challenging for her, very demanding, but she is up for it and we have promised her a trip to Disney World when we go and see the surgeon next summer."

It is very challenging for her, very demanding but she is up for it and we have promised her a Disney trip more range and quality of movement now and without the spasticity she is so much more comfortable. She is able to wiggle her toes for the first time, she is using walking sticks now at home and is standing independently for up to a minute now, which is a massive difference."

Mad Hatters at Image ball

THOUSANDS of pounds were raised for Northamptonshire's Crazy Hats Breast Cancer Appeal at the annual charity ball staged by Image magazine.

The black tie event at Highgate House, Creaton, was supported by more than 50 county companies with Northampton jewellers Steffans acting as the main sponsor for the second year running.

The Image Mad Hatter's Charity Ball raised £4,650 for Crazy Hats and was attended by more than 150 guests. A fabulous champagne reception, complete with colourful cupcakes and a chocolate fountain, got the evening off to a stylish start.

A charity auction and raffle were also staged on the night. In the three years the Image ball has been supporting Crazy Hats almost £20,000 has been raised for the charity.

Theatre

A cringe-worthy party

MIKE Leigh's play Abigail's Party will take to the Northampton stage as the latest production at the Playhouse Theatre. The story tells of Beverly and Laurence, who host a drinks party for neighbours. The guests suffer a cringe-inducing attempt by Beverly to be the perfect hostess and after a series of silences and arguments about music and art, Laurence collapses and guest Angela does her best to revive him. It takes place from Tuesday until Saturday at the Clare Street theatre. Tickets cost £7 and the curtain goes up at 7.45pm. To book call the box office on 01604 627791.

MUCH-LOVED TV actor Todd Carty will bang two coconuts together when Spamalot's UK tour comes to Northampton next week.

Known for his work in Grange Hill, EastEnders and The Bill, Carty now joins the Spamalot tour as Patsy. The musical is based on the film Monty Python And The Holy Grail and was written by Python member Eric Idle with a musical score created by Eric Idle and John Du Prez.

Spamalot tells the legendary tale of King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table and features beautiful show girls, not to mention cows, killer rabbits and French People. Its tunes have been described as 'catchier than the Plague' and include the Nation's Favourite Comedy Song, as voted for by readers of the Reader's Digest, Always Look On The Bright Side Of Life.

The show features the voice of Python star Eric Idle as the voice of God, while the Lady of the Lake will be played by Hayley Tamaddon, best known as Delilah Dingle in Emmerdale and the winner of the latest series of Dancing On Ice. Comedian and Radio 4 presenter Marcus Brigstocke plays King Arthur.

Carty is known for his role as Tucker in Grange Hill, which resulted in his own spin-off series. He also played Mark Fowler in EastEnders and starred as Pc Kent in The Bill. Recently he has worked as a director and tried his hand at ice skating in Dancing On Ice.

Spamalot takes place on the Derrogate stage from Monday until Saturday, October 2.

Tickets cost £14 to £37 and are available from the box office on 01604 624811 or online at www.royalanddergate.co.uk

Be warned – they are topless for much of its 75 minutes.

The show will be a hit with anyone who has seen and loved the Vagina Monologues, Hot Flush or Calendar Girls.

Swan Lake's flying visit

A NATIONWIDE tour of Swan Lake comes to The Lighthouse this week. The young stars of the Rudolph Nureyev Russian State Ballet Academy bring the classic story to Kettering next Friday as part of a 46-date tour.

Nureyev is recognised as one of the three greatest male dancers of the 20th century, and this production features 45 young dancers from his renowned academy. Composed by the great Tchaikovsky between 1875 and 1876, Swan Lake – arguably the most popular and well known ballet of all time – is crafted from Russian folk tales and an ancient German legend. First performed at Moscow's Bolshoi Theatre in 1877 as The Lake of Swans, the ballet tells the story of Odette, a young princess who is turned into a swan by an evil sorcerer and can only be saved by her prince's everlasting love and eternal devotion overcoming the forces conspiring to deceive and separate them. Tickets for Swan Lake cost £17.50 (Concessions £16). To book, call 01536 414141 or go to www.lighthouse theatre.co.uk. The show starts 7.30pm.

The Lucky Devils

Bedlam is back and its Breaking out

THE Roadmender is preparing for two days of psychobilly which head to the venue when the Bedlam Breakout returns to the county this weekend.

The weekender returns at the end of the month, celebrating its 10th event.

The two nights will be headlined by The Quakes tomorrow night, followed by The Ricochets the following night.

The pair will be joined by Coffin Nails, The Termites, The Chills, Go Go Cult, Klingonz, The Lucky Devils, Tight Fitting Pants, Westcoast Whippets, Frantic Vermin, Spook Ghouls and Kings Of Outer Space.

The international line-up includes bands from America, France, Finland and Holland and is regularly attended by psychobilly and rockabilly fans from across the world.

Headliners The Quakes formed in the mid 1980s playing a modern mix of rockabilly, in the vein of their idols, the Stray-Rock and Pole-Cats.

The trio moved from the US to London in 1987, playing their first European show to more than 4,000 psychobilly fans in Belgium, going on to support the Coffin Nails.

They are considered one of the first psychobilly bands and one of the most influential bands of the scene.

Rockabilly fan and organiser Pip has been busy helping to organise Bedlam Breakouts since 1996.

He said: "We decided to organise Bedlam while away on holiday one year, I don't think that when starting out that we would reach the tenth one."

"We've had some fantastic bands playing during the years and have another great line-up this time."

"It's amazing to have The Quakes over to headline the Friday, they are one of the great bands of the genre."

"We have a great mixture of people attend Bedlam Breakout and we're hoping for another great night."

Bedlam Breakout 10 is on Friday, September 24, and Saturday, September 25, at the Roadmender.

Friday tickets cost £15 in advance or £17.50 in advance and Saturday tickets cost £20 in advance or £22.50 on the door. Weekend tickets cost £35.

On Friday, doors open at 7pm and the bands begin at 7.30pm and on Saturday, doors open at 1.30pm with bands playing until 11.30pm.

Following the bands on the Saturday, a club night will run until 3am.

Your residential sales problems are going, going, gone!

- Since expanding our services into Residential Sales a few months ago and as part of our continued expansion we are pleased to welcome Mark Carroll to join our team. With over 30 years experience within the industry Mark joins an already highly experienced and successful group at Ashby Lowery and is very excited at becoming part of this well respected and highly regarded business
- "The market appears to have changed during the last three to four months. The appearance is that it is a very precise market with buyers and sellers' coming to terms with what represents value to them from their own perspectives. It is important for the agent to have a thorough understanding of the current market conditions and with this understanding, being borne out of considerable experience we can better understand the requirements of our clients. Vendors want to achieve the best possible price and therefore it is vital to market properties to buyers in the most comprehensive way possible and once interest is generated communicate effectively and knowledgeably with the prospective buyer. Experience and knowledge is key in this regard" commented Mark.
- In addition to sale by private treaty we will also be holding an "Autumn Auction" which will enable people committed to selling their property as soon as possible to achieve a sale within a time frame which suits them
- For anyone thinking of selling or trying to sell their property at the moment Ashby Lowery can offer unrivalled experience, comprehensive marketing and quality of service which is second to none all at highly competitive fees. For further information contact Mark Carroll or Steve Brown on 01604 609609

Affleck goes to town

THE TOWN (15, 124 mins)
Thriller/Action/Romance. Ben Affleck, Rebecca Hall, Jeremy Renner, Jon Hamm, Pete Postlethwaite, Blake Lively, Chris Cooper, Titus Welliver, Slaine, Owen Burke. Director: Ben Affleck.

BEN Affleck may be best known as an actor but the chisel-jawed leading man is steadily delivering his best work behind the camera.

He already has an Oscar on the mantelpiece as co-writer of Good Will Hunting and his directorial debut Gone Baby Gone was a gritty adaptation of Dennis Lehane's novel that garnered numerous critical plaudits.

For his second feature in the director's chair, Affleck remains on the streets of Boston for a taut heist thriller based on the novel Prince Of Thieves by Chuck Hogan.

The Town is a well-crafted and vivid portrait of a close-knit community of men with a strict code of silence that condemns those whose speak out of turn to an early grave.

What the film may lack in originality it makes up for in exhilarating action sequences and strong performances, with Affleck noticeably giving himself the least showy role and allowing his co-stars to chew the scenery.

The film is set in Charlestown, Massachusetts, the one-square-mile neighbourhood that apparently produces more armoured car and bank robbers than anywhere else in America.

With that in mind, it beggars belief that the cops aren't better prepared to neutralise the threat of the gun-toting thieves who run amok here but Affleck's film wouldn't run much past 30 minutes without myriad suspensions of disbelief.

Doug MacRay (Ben Affleck) is doomed to repeat the mistakes of his father Stephen (Chris Cooper), who is serving time in a maximum security prison, as mastermind of a four-strong team of bank robbers comprising trigger-happy best friend Jem (Jeremy Renner), Gloansy (Slaine) and Desmond (Owen Burke).

On their final job, Jem takes bank manager Claire Keesey (Rebecca Hall) hostage, releasing her once they are safely away from pursuing cops.

Fearing that the terrified woman may identify them, Doug engineers a meeting in a laundrette and slowly develops an attraction to Claire, who has no idea that she is falling in love with the man who pointed a gun at her head hours earlier.

Meanwhile, FBI Special Agent Frawley (Jon Hamm) treads on the toes of Boston Police Detective Dino Ciampa (Titus Welliver) to apprehend the thieves and bring down money man Fergie Colm (Pete Postlethwaite).

The Town cranks up the tension as Doug struggles to keep his affair with Claire secret from Jem and the posse.

Once the apparent betrayal comes to light, it ignites a powder keg of emotions that rocks the neighbourhood to its foundations.

Affleck's (anti) hero is bland next to scene-stealers Renner and Postlethwaite but in his capacity as director, he makes light work of the two-hour running time and energises the set pieces including a protracted car chase through labyrinthine alleys.

The only surprise is how long it takes Affleck to reach the resolution we can see coming a mile off.

Also showing . . .

THE HOLE IN 3D (12A)

Susan Thompson (Teri Polo) is forced to uproot her family to a new, secluded neighbourhood, causing friction with her older, teenage son, Dane (Chris Massoglia). Younger son Lucas (Nathan Gamble) accepts the situation far more readily. Playing in the basement one day, Dane and Lucas discover a trapdoor secured with several padlocks. Foolishly, the boys decide to remove the locks and open the trapdoor to reveal a seemingly bottomless pit. When they seek answers from the previous resident, Creepy Carl (Bruce Dern), the Thompsons learn that the hole is a portal to The Darkness, a terrifying force which preys upon human fears. Rating: 6/10

THE OTHER GUYS (12A)

Detectives PK Highsmith (Samuel L Jackson) and Christopher Danson (Dwayne Johnson) are the golden boys of the NYPD, monopolising newspaper headlines with their gung-ho antics. When the two officers are sidelined, hot-headed Terry Hoitz (Mark Wahlberg) and his mild-mannered partner Allen Gamble (Will Ferrell) vie with rival detectives Fosse (Damon Wayans Jr) and Martin (Rob Riggle) to lead the team. "I'm a peacock. You've got to let me fly!" Terry implores Captain Gene Mauch (Michael Keaton), desperate to be included on a case involving multi-millionaire David Ershon (Steve Coogan). When his pleas fall on deaf ears, Terry drags Allen into the field with only a wooden replica gun for protection. Rating: 6/10

THE KID (15)

Kevin (William Finn Miller) is a punch bag for his volatile mother Gloria (Natascha McElhone) and father Dennis (Con O'Neill) until social services finally intervene, placing the boy in a home run by Uncle David (Bernard Hill). However, no sooner has Kevin settled in and begun to flourish he is returned to his parents. The cycle of violence continues and as Kevin enters his difficult teenage years (now played by Augustus Prew), he arouses the interest of concerned teacher Colin Smith (Ioan Gruffudd). Once again, fate conspires against Kevin (now played by Rupert Friend) and he plunges into the abyss – the only glimmer of hope, a fledgling romance with a beautiful girl called Jackie (Jodie Whittaker). Rating: 8/10

Renault Laguna Coupe Monaco GP

REVIEW BY PHIL VAUGHAN

Image boost for Laguna

HERE'S another special edition that puts up a strong case for being made a permanent member of its model line-up - the Renault Laguna Coupe Monaco GP.

Specials, by and large, mean a bit of extra kit and a unique paint job, usually for little extra cost, to boost showroom throughput because they put the emphasis on value.

The Monaco GP, on the other hand, isn't just good for sales, it's good for the two-door Laguna Coupe's whole image.

Consider, then, the evidence favouring a permanent slot for Renault's special edition. Car designers have realised lately that, while still shackled to the constraints of aerodynamics, weight, and the environment, they CAN be a little bolder, a little braver, with their pen strokes.

So, a gritty grille and beefy wheel arch here, a more muscular shoulder and raked roofline there - motors are steadily making a character comeback.

And that's something the Laguna Coupe is woefully short of. It's a lovely looking machine in one sense, but its lines are so slick, so sleek, so smooth, that the car's whole shape comes across as soulless.

This GP version, based on a GT, can't put everything right, but it does a fine job of giving the Coupe a little character, of evoking more spirited style with its look-at-me livery and magical Monaco name.

So please don't go shutting down the Monaco GP production line by the end of this month, Renault - keep this version, and ditch a couple of others from the line-up instead.

The price of the special is £24,995, and it comes with eye-catching white metallic bodywork with a contrasting glossy black roof and dark, 18-inch alloys with subtle, Monaco GP badging sited low down just before the rear wheels.

It's a 2.0-litre diesel engine under the bonnet, the 180bhp version, which dovetails nicely with this homage to Renault's F1 wins at Monaco in 2004 and 2006. And sharp four-wheel steering complements the agile, dynamic drive, giving quite a wow factor to cornering ability.

The 1995cc powerplant employs a six-speed manual gearbox, and produces performance figures of 138mph at the top end, a 0 to 62mph sprint time of 8.5 seconds, plus an overall 45.6mpg.

Dark grey leather upholstery with Monaco GP logos on the seating is the most eye-catching interior treatment, and Renault has gone with white-painted inserts for the doors, centre console, and dashboard to provide more colour contrast.

Technology has been lavished upon this Laguna Coupe, too - Bluetooth, a Bose sound system, a dock for portable music players, a joystick-operated TomTom satnav, front and rear parking sensors, and a tyre pressure monitor are all Monaco GP fixtures, as are heated, power-adjustable, front seats.

It's all in addition to GT fixtures such as cruise control, fingertip audio controls, a trip computer, automatic headlights and wipers, and more, with Renault sparing no expense on safety fittings, either.

It's important to mention the Coupe's practical side - the boot space is a good size at 423 litres, and it can go the distance with a 66-litre fuel tank.

But Renault would get even more mileage out of the Monaco GP by keeping it on, and, being realistic, the French firm doesn't sell that many in the UK, so this particular model wouldn't lose any of its special edition status.

PAIN OF DEFEAT – Lee Dickson and James Downey show their dismay after last season's Premiership semi-final defeat to Saracens

Lawes wants Christian to have his Day

COURTNEY LAWES says it would be 'awesome' to line up alongside fellow Saint Christian Day in the England second row.

The pair have formed a formidable partnership at the beginning of this Aviva Premiership campaign, helping their side to three wins from three.

They've dominated the lineup against established set piece side Leicester Tigers on the opening weekend of the season, leading to rave reviews.

And they were at it again against Bath last Friday night under the Franklin's Gardens lights, destroying Bath, who had gone into the game as league leaders.

Lawes and Day teamed up to help Saints to a 31-10 win against Steve Meehan's men, and they did it under the watchful gaze of England boss Martin Johnson.

Lawes is already a member of Johnson's squad, having helped the Red Rose to a fine Test win in Australia during the summer, in a series that ended 1-1.

And now the Jimmy's End giant would like to see his club-mate called up to play alongside him as the preparations for the 2011 Rugby World Cup in New Zealand intensify.

"It'd be awesome," said the 21-year-old Lawes, who has won four England caps.

"He's a great workhorse and like I said before the game, he's partly the reason why I can get around and make big tackles because he's hitting the rucks, making those tackles as well.

"He's a brilliant player and maybe he deserves Saxons, maybe England, you know."

Lawes was full of praise for Day, who, since returning from a long term neck injury, has filled the shoes of influential South African ace Juandre Kruger.

And after winning man-of-the-match on Friday, ahead of a number of Saints' England stars, Day was showered with praise, especially by his second row partner.

"Man of the match, best player on the pitch today so he definitely ranks alongside our England players," said Lawes.

"He works so hard and he made so many tackles so he deserved it. He's a great replacement for Juandre."

Foden's pledge

ENGLAND full-back Ben Foden says Saints will use last season's semi-final defeat as motivation when they take on Saracens this weekend.

A heated rivalry has grown between the two clubs and after going all season unbeaten at home, Saints suffered two losses in a row at Franklin's Gardens to Brendan Venter's side.

The final one was in the Premiership semi-finals and the memory of that painful defeat will be used by Saints as they look to make it four wins out of four at Vicarage Road on Sunday.

"We definitely owe them one from last year," said Foden. "We were very disappointed with the results. You work so hard to get yourself in that position, to come up short twice was pretty devastating.

"We have got to work hard this week, it will be something in the back of our minds and hopefully it will be enough to get us fired up for the weekend."

Last season saw a growing animosity between the two clubs, fuelled in part by Soane Tonga'uiha's u-turn out of a move to Vicarage Road.

Saracens' list of antics to wind up Saints, including trying to take over the Gardens' Tannoy, has heightened tensions between the two clubs and Foden is hoping Saints' pack can continue its devastating form.

Foden said: "Confidence is very high, we are delighted to get off to a flying start and it was a tough start as well against Leicester, Harlequins and Bath. To beat Bath by that many points last week and get four tries was brilliant.

"It is a long old season, it is all very good getting off to a good start, but we have got to keep backing up our performances and keep pushing ourselves every week."
